

AMERICAN STUDENTS

We welcome to the parish Jacob Hickman, Assistant Professor, Department of Anthropology, Brigham Young University Utah USA and his students, who have just arrived in our parish to study contemporary daily religious life in Belfast.

Three parish families are hosting up to 10 students while the remainder stay in Queen's Elms. The students will attend Mass and get to know our parish this coming summer as they conduct research on religious life in Belfast. Their involvement simply involves coming to parish services and attending other parish activities. Their goal is to give the students a more immersed view of daily religious life in Belfast. Please help to welcome the students to St Colmcille's.
